

~~SECRET~~

15 March 1967

MEMORANDUM FOR: 25X1A

SUBJECT : IG Survey on Requirements

25X1A10 March) on the report and agree with them in almost all respects. The presentation of the material is admirably concise and easily relatable to the basic report. The substance of the comments if adopted, would clearly increase our chances of bringing about the improvements we all seek in the requirements field.

2. Having also studied CGS's comments, I commend them to you for most serious consideration. The burden of making the system work bears so heavily upon CGS itself that we should, in my opinion, err on the side of going along with what Hitchcock believes he needs to bring it off.

3. My main concern has to do with the apparent inconsistency in the mission and mode of operation of the Collection Guidance Advisory Group. It is labeled an "advisory" group--and that is what it should be. In a number of cases, however, the discharge of management functions are made its responsibility. To varying degrees this applies to what is recommended in #6, #7, #8, #10-#12, #13, #24-#25.

4. It is not clear whose advisory group CGAG is. Is it DDI? Is it C/CGS? Clearly it should be the latter's.

5. Rather than charge Chief CGS to take certain actions "in collaboration with the Collection Guidance Advisory Group," I would place the charge on Chief CGS alone, leaving it to him to decide when and how to use his own advisory group.

6. The exchange of personnel between FI Staff and CGS should be encouraged on the basis of a full two-year tour. This is not a substitute for dealing with the quite separate problem of holding period meetings to discuss problems of mutual interest as provided under your revised #9. Both actions are needed, the first to educate, the second to operate.

~~SECRET~~

SECRET

7. CGS and DCS should be directed to jointly recommend action for DDI consideration designed to short-circuit the manner in which human resource guidance is provided. If we start with the proposition that the normal route for a human resource requirement is (1) to ascertain if the information is already on hand, (2) then to exhaust DCS potential before (3) we levy the requirement on the more costly clandestine resources, perhaps we can operate more effectively if the management relationship between the HR element of CGS and DCS is more closely integrated--or even combined.

8. Another matter worth exploring is the desirability of separating the two essentially independent functions performed by CGS: (1) guiding collectors, and (2) supporting the CIA Member of USIB and USIB associated activities. This need not, however, be an issue in the present exercise, but would be a useful study conducted as part of the implementation of the [redacted] report--deals more with the "how" than with the "what." 25X1A

25X1A9a

Director of Intelligence Support

SECRET